Prospettive Fantastiche

MM Company designs “Prospettive Fantastiche”, a capsule collection of four carpets which draws inspiration from two-dimensional pencil sketches made by an architect while noting down design ideas born during a phone call.

Compositions of “fantastic” geometric volumes, built starting from perspective projections that can be perfectly observed from every perspective. The collection is available in a sophisticated and minimalist colour palette and enriched by a materiality given by the different heights of the pile to accentuate the vanishing lines and the sense of depth: the closer we get to the centre the shorter the pile is. The result is a synthetic and rationalist composition, made up of independent elements, but concatenated by a single graphic sign.

The rugs are the result of a combination of widespread creativity, materials and know-how. Each piece was designed in MM Company's design office in Milan, then completely handknotted by expert Indian craftsmen - who follow ancient techniques and use the finest quality materials such as New Zealand wool and the silk. The production supervision was followed directly by Matteo Pala in his artisan workshops in India and then presented in Matteo Pala's exclusive showroom in Vicenza, located in the suggestive Villa Zileri - Motterle.
